CELEBRATING BLACK HISTORY MONTH 2011

"AFRICAN AMERICANS AND THE CIVIL WAR"

February 2011

---

President Barack Obama

"Progress in America has not come easily, but has resulted from the collective efforts of generations. For centuries, African American men and women have persevered to enrich our national life and bend the arc of history toward justice. From resolute Revolutionary War soldiers fighting for liberty to the hardworking students of today reaching for horizons their ancestors could only have imagined, African Americans have strengthened our Nation by leading reforms, overcoming obstacles, and breaking down barriers. During National African American History Month, we celebrate the vast contributions of African Americans to our Nation's history and identity.

*This year's theme, "African Americans and the Civil War," invites us to reflect on 150 years since the start of the Civil War and on the patriots of a young country who fought for the promises of justice and equality laid out by our forebearers." LEGACY OF STRUGGLE AND TRIUMPH

Celebrating Black History Month Series – White House

The White House celebrates Black History Month 2011 by highlighting contributions of African Americans whose work is helping to advance the President's goal of "winning the future."

Ursula Burns' Path to Success in the Fortune 500

There are four African American chief executives in the 'Fortune 500,' Fortune magazine's ranking of the top U.S. companies. Among this small group of trailblazers, Ursula Burns of Xerox Corporation has the distinction of being the only black female to serve as the chief executive of a Fortune 500 company.

Black History Month Honors Legacy of Struggle and Triumph

Each February, Black History Month honors the struggles and triumphs of millions of American citizens over the most devastating obstacles — slavery, prejudice, poverty — as well as their contributions to cultural and political life.

NOTABLE AFRICAN AMERICANS

Beyond Dr. King - This electronic book profiles less recognized African Americans of importance, like Claudette Colvin (the 15 year old African American woman who refused to give up her seat on a Montgomery, Alabama bus months before Rosa Parks did the same thing), Bishop Richard Allen, and Ida B. Wells-Barnett. Read stories of African American achievement and check back on the first day of each month to read new profiles of inspiring African Americans.

FUN FACTS

African Americans of the Senate - The role of African Americans in Senate history is not limited to those who served in elected office. In fact, one of the earliest and most enduring roles of African Americans in Senate history came with the construction of the U.S. Capitol.

Facts for Features: Black History Month - Collections of statistics from the U.S. Census Bureau's demographic and economic subject area intended to commemorate Black History Month.

FACEBOOK COMPETITION, PRIZES FOR STUDENTS

Students are invited to name one American and provide a brief sentence describing how or what he/she did to advance the cause of African/Black Americans in the USA. They should post responses on the U.S. Embassy Facebook (see Feb. 8 entry) and send their complete contact information, including e-mail address, mobile phone numbers and postal address to irckualumpur@state.gov to receive, while stocks last, a complimentary publication, THE CIVIL RIGHTS MOVEMENT AND THE LEGACY OF MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR.

ONLINE READING

Free At Last - The U.S. Civil Rights Movement - This book recounts how African-American slaves and their descendants struggled to win — both in law and in practice — the civil rights enjoyed by other Americans. It is a story of dignified persistence and struggle, a story that produced great heroes and heroines, and one that ultimately succeeded by forcing Americans to confront squarely the shameful gap between their universal principles of equality and justice and the inequality, injustice, and oppression faced by millions of their fellow citizens.

Justice for All: The Legacy of Thurgood Marshall - Thurgood Marshall stands as one of the great American heroes of the 20th century: He was the attorney who ended legal segregation in the United States with his victory in the Brown v. Board of Education case, and the U.S. Supreme Court justice who championed expanded rights for every individual American -- minorities, women, and immigrants, among many others.
